

Bishop Roberts serves as the Senior Pastor and founder of the Ramah Christian Center in the Bronx, New York, and the Ramah Prophetic Institute, which focuses on cultivating leadership in the Prophetic Arts and Apostolic Teams.

In his broader leadership capacity, Bishop Roberts is the Continental Bishop for the Jabula New Life Ministries, overseeing the North America and Caribbean delegation, and he also serves as the second Vice President of the 47th Precinct Clergy Coalition in the Bronx.

A lifelong learner, Bishop Roberts holds degrees from Lighthouse Christian College in Beebe, Arkansas, and H.F.A. Bible College in New York, including a master's degree in psycho-theological studies. He combines his theological training with years of professional experience as a sales marketing consultant, giving him a unique perspective on leadership in both faith-based and secular contexts.

Bishop Roberts is deeply committed to equipping individuals and organizations with the tools they need to thrive. His passion is to see strong, transformative leadership emerge across all sectors of society. As a sought-after conference speaker and empowerment coach, he specializes in leadership development and inspiring others to fulfill their potential.

Driven by his mandate to see the church of Jesus Christ grow into the fullness of its calling, Bishop Roberts remains a tireless advocate for the development and impartation of the five-fold ministry, empowering leaders to make a lasting impact in their communities and beyond.
